

THE POST-SCHOOL OUTCOME SURVEY

Help us Prepare Students for Success after High School

Educators care about students with disabilities and want to make sure that they are prepared for adulthood, meaningful employment or further education when they leave school. One year after leaving high school, someone from school may call, email or send a letter to ask if your child is going to college, vocational training or working.

Responding is important! Your answers will:

- Tell schools how prepared students are for education and employment after high school;
- Help schools improve programs;
- Help schools focus on student's success beyond the classroom;
- Identify areas for teacher training and support.

WHO'S INCLUDED IN THE SURVEY?

Former students who had an Individualized Education Program (IEP) during their last year of high school and who are no longer enrolled in school will be asked to complete the survey. Information may be gathered from a parent, guardian or caregiver like yourself. Responding is voluntary.

Did Your School Help Prepare Your Child?

WHAT'S INCLUDED?

The short survey asks questions about your child's current educational and job activities.

WHEN?

States are required to survey young adults between April and September the year after leaving school. The survey may be a phone call, email or letter asking a few questions.

States may send a notification letter that:

- Explains the survey;
- Asks you to participate;
- Tells you how and when you'll be contacted.

WHAT ABOUT PRIVACY?

Any personal information shared on the survey will be kept confidential. Your child's identity will not be known.

SHAPE THE FUTURE!

By completing the survey you can help shape school programs to prepare students with disabilities for successful adult lives. Please watch for the survey, complete, and return it to the school as directed.
