understanding and desire to meet the grant requirements and was asked to join the Connection Committee and assist with facilitating the Leadership trainings with new officers. He had an ability to connect with officers and explain their role on school campuses that validated their service and expertise. During the virtual trainings, his friendly manner and professionalism put the audience at ease and exemplified how bridges are built between law enforcement and the community. He was kind, humorous and always willing to support the SSP and went above and beyond for the program. He was team player who had a true desire to execute his work with high quality and compassion. He loved the work, he loved the students and it was very evident. He will be missed greatly.
