AASA Grade 3 ELA Reading Summer Administration

Test Window: June 17 – July 19, 2024

Grade 3 students who fail to meet the Move on When Reading (MOWR) indicator on the Spring 2024 AASA ELA Reading administration and who do not qualify for one of the good cause exemptions related to students with IEPs, a diagnosis of dyslexia, or being an English learner (EL) are eligible.

LEAs have the same authority to make the final determination regarding adequate progress and retention for MOWR.

Overview

- ✓ On September 25, 2023, the State Board approved an additional reading demonstration tool to meet the requirements in R7-2-318, the AASA Grade 3 ELA Reading Summer Administration.
- ✓ Current MOWR cut scores will be used to determine if the student met the MOWR indicator for the Spring 2024 administration and for the Summer administration.
- ✓ Students participating in the summer administration will only be administered the reading sections of the ELA test (no writing prompt and no Oral Reading Fluency items).
- ✓ Listening items will be included within the reading sections.
- ✓ The summer administration will be available as a Computer-Based Test.

- ✓ There will be two Reading sections in the summer test. A break must be provided between sections.
- ✓ One testing ticket will be needed to access the test. In addition, a seal code will be needed to access Section 2 of the Summer Reading test.
- ✓ The Summer 2024 administration in PearsonAccess^{next} (PAN) is separate from the Spring 2024 administration and will open in PAN on May 8, 2024, for DTCs to begin adding user accounts.
- ✓ ADE will upload eligible students to PAN. Students will be visible in PAN on May 20, 2024.
- ✓ On demand reporting – preliminary results in 48 hours in PAN
